

The Scholar's Creed

We are the gifted children and developing scholars of the African Diaspora.

We aspire to be successful leaders in our communities and strive for excellence.

Our accomplishments dispel and disprove negative stereotypes that hinder and affect our people.

We are committed to create a path for younger generations so they can continue our legacy of greatness.

We are strong, and within ourselves, we have the ability to overcome any obstacle, being both tenacious and unstoppable.

We will be united as one soulful nation in the future with the common goal of high achievement.

We are the ebony jewels that are destined to shine and leave our indelible mark on the world.
